With The District Agriculturist

Hugh Michael

During the years since the close of the war, appreciable numbers of Polish Veterans and D.P.'s have been brought to Canada and placed on farms in various provinces by co-operation between the Department of Labour at Ottawa and the Provincial Department of Agriculture. Some of these persons have remained in agriculture, and some have gravitated to other industries. In general, it may be said that these workers were reasonably satisfactory and that they filled a need.

During the last year the number immigrating under this arrangement has greatly declined, and it is anticipated that the International Refugee Organization, which was looking after these people in Europe, will discontinue its operations early in 1951. When this occurs the movement of D.P.'s will probably cease. In the meantime, some are still available as are also Italian farm workers. These people come as single males, married couples with or without children, and single girls as domestics.

At the moment it is not certain that any more D.P.'s will come to this Province. Whether or not they do will depend to some extent on the demand from farmers for this type of assistance. Farmers, therefore who could use such immigrants for full-time employment should contact this office immediately. We are not at the present time accepting signed applications for this help, but if farmers wish to procure it they should list their requirements immediately. These people are for year round employment only and those intending to keep them for short periods should not request them.

In the fiscal year ending March 31, 1950, total operating expenses of the CBC were $8,240,000 and net operating deficit was $242,000.

Canada's farmers had a total cash income in 1949 of $2,474,499,000.

Vanished Towns On British Coast

In describing what the sea has done, and is still doing, on the coast of Great Britain, a London writer says:

If a map of England were placed before you, and you were asked to put your finger on Dunwich, you would probably be all at sea. That, as a matter of fact, is just where most of Dunwich is today—at sea, or, rather, at the bottom of it.

The ruins of an old church are all that remain of this once important port, which in its prime was more important than Ipswich or Yarmouth. Some idea of its size may be gained from the fact that it possessed "52 churches, chapels, religious houses, hospitals, a king's palace, a bishop's seat, a mayor's mansion and a mint."

Where are they now? The waves washed over them. They are dead.

The tides of the East Coast flow over many a drowned city of the past. According to legend, visitors to Cromer may hear the chimes of Cromer's ancient church clanging away out at sea when the storms lash into the belfry. Certain it is that two miles from the cliffs, the old town of Shimpliden lies, and bits of it may be detected today on the rocks at low tide.

It is quite gruesome to climb down some of the Norfolk cliffs. Not long ago the writer explored the cliffs under the famous "Garden of Sleep," three miles from Cromer. There had been a fresh landslide during the night, and he came upon old skulls and bones which had one laid peacefully at rest in a quiet graveyard. They lie there, waiting until the next fall of cliff carries them out into the tide.

Yorkshire has suffered particularly, in spite of the great sums that have been spent protecting the coast. No one can tell how many towns it has lost.

A Dozen Vanishing Villages
In the district of Ravenspur there are a dozen vanished villages. Nor will you find Ravenspur marked on any modern map. It was once a great seaport and market town. The ocean advanced on it in a series of fierce onslaughts. "From day to day," an old deed recorded of the surrounding villages, "these places became so far waste, being tossed by impetuous waves every day and night."

The sea carried out a kind of encircling movement, so Ravenspur was wiped out.

Skegness is about a shadowy of its former greatness. Its castle, church, marketplace and fortification are among the breakers.

But it is not only on the east coast that the sea has driven its way inland. It is the same story all the way around.

Old Brighton lies beyond its longest pier. The mysterious land named Lyones once joined the Scilly Isles at Carnell, and was rich in tin. Turn to your atlas, and note the "wedge" of the Bristol Channel. The sea has shaped that wedge, advancing over land that was once high and dry. A tremendous tract has been lost in Cardigan Bay.

Probably one of the most curious sights which the ocean still allows us to see at low tide is in the vicinity of Gwyddno's City, one of Wales' lost spots. Parts of four roads, which have not been used for over 1,400 years are uncovered. The roads are elevated, as

Churches Hold Vacation Schools

Under the direction of the Rev. E. A. Justice of the Anglican Church, and O. H. Rolis of the United Church, a successful church vacation school was held during the middle of August, with 79 enrolled. The school, representing the Sunday Schools, was taught by Mrs. L. Chell and Mrs. G. Poersch; the nursery by Mrs. Yoder and Miss I. MacDonald; the juniors by the Rev. E. A. Justice, and the intermediates by the Rev. O. H. Rolis.

Miss Terrie McAfee ably assisted the singing by playing the piano and the organ. Worship services were conducted by the Rev. E. A. Justice during which Mrs. C. Jordan told missionary stories with the use of flannelgraph. Mrs. H. Bride directed the handwork, and was assisted by Mrs. V. Harrison and Mrs. J. Shortt. Mrs. F. Woodman, assisted by Mrs. A. D. Tompkins, prepared the materials for handcraft. Mrs. R. Fulton, and Mrs. A. Hindle gave assistance during the five-day period.

On Wednesday afternoon, August 16th, the closing was held in the United Church. This was well attended by parents and friends. The members of the school demonstrated what work they had done during the term; singing their increase in Bible knowledge; dramatized work taken; and displayed their handwork. A collection was taken to defray expenses of the school.

At the close, a social hour was enjoyed in the Church Hall; where a committee under Mrs. N. Jamison served refreshments. During the term the school gave to missionary enterprises, in providing church schools in Canada and Overseas.

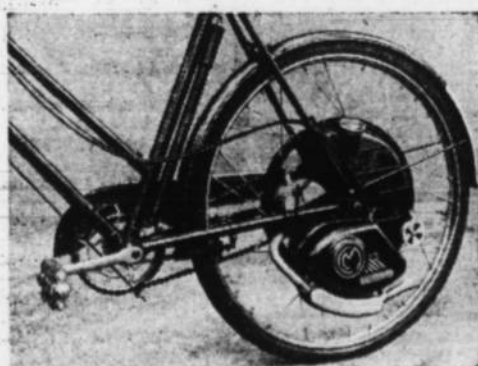

Plan Organization Guides, Brownies

Leaders of the Girl Guides Company and Brownies Troop of Vulcan gathered at the home of Mrs. J. P. O'Connell on Wednesday evening, Aug. 23, to meet District Commissioner, Mrs. F. D. Blake of High River.

Much valuable information was given and definite organization plans were made.

Girls interested in either Guides or Brownies are asked to see Mrs. O'Connell at the Dollar Store.

John S. McRoberts Dies Suddenly; Was Pioneer Farmer

The Vulcan-Reid Hill-Milo district was shocked and saddened Tuesday evening to learn of the sudden death that afternoon of John Sylvanus McRoberts, aged 68 years, well-known and highly respected pioneer.

Born at Tilsonburg, Ont., on June 1st, 1881, Mr. McRoberts came to the Reid Hill district, east of the present town of Vulcan, in 1908, before the railroad went through on this line, and took up homesteading. Eight years later he was married to Freida Herman of LaCrosse, Wisc., and the couple continued to farm, until their retirement a year ago, when they moved into Vulcan.

Tuesday morning Mr. McRoberts had gone out to supervise harvesting operations on his land, and during the afternoon, Louis Palmer, who is far-ling the place this year, missed Mr. McRoberts and upon going to a nearby field, found him dead. He had apparently suffered a heart attack.

Surviving to mourn him are his wife, Freida, in Vulcan; one daughter, Mrs. Kathleen Doelling, Edmonton, and a grand-daughter, Linda Doelling, Vulcan. Two sisters, Mrs. A. A. Healy and Mrs. Willis Lester, reside in Ontario. Lorne Healy of the Reid Hill district is a nephew.

Mr. McRoberts was a member of the Milo, I.O.O.F. lodge.

Funeral services will be held from the Vulcan United church Friday at 2:30 p.m. and burial will be made in the Vulcan cemetery.

Deliver Wheat 280 Miles To Elevators in Northern Alberta

Walter Johnson, agent for United Grain Growers Ltd. at Grimshaw, Alberta, established a grain handling record for his company when total deliveries for the current crop year amounted to 659,536 bushels.

Interviewed recently when returning from a motor trip with his family, Mr. Johnson reported some interesting facts which contributed to his record handling. Grimshaw is located in the Peace River Block some 450 miles north west of Edmonton. It lies at the junction of the new McKenzie Highway which runs to Hay River 390 miles north and serves the Yellowknife area on the north shore of Great Slave Lake.

The last three loads of grain delivered late in July were trucked a distance of 280 miles to Grimshaw—from a point 40 miles north of Fort Vermilion. Some exceptional loads are hauled by the truckers. Using semi-trailers wheat loads frequently exceed 500 bushels while a single load of oats was hauled which weighed the equivalent of over 800 bushels.

Trucking rates for the distances and loads hauled are of course beyond comparison with similar charges in settled communities. Farmers have paid as high as 60¢ per bushel to transport their grain to the elevator. While the highway serving this territory and what may be termed one of Canada's last frontiers is generally in good condition, grain producers are not always fortunate in the roads serving their farmsteads. One farmer who hauls to Grimshaw is located forty miles from the nearest graded road. Currently he has 300 acres in crop.

Ed Johnston (no relation to Walter) is the assistant agent at Grimshaw and shares equally in the deserved credit for the record handling. The Grimshaw elevator is under the supervision of traveling superintendent D. J. (Doug) Burch who resides in Grande Prairie.

CANADA'S POPULATION NEARS 14 MILLION MARK

Canada's population is creeping up on the 14,000,000 mark.

The Bureau of Statistics reported recently that at June 1 the population was estimated at 13,845,000, an increase of 296,000 over June 1, 1949. It was also 2,338,000 above the figure in 1941, when the last census was taken.

Entry of Newfoundland into confederation last year accounted for 348,000 of the ten-year gain.

Excluding Newfoundland's addition, the largest net increase in these years and the largest on record was 318,000 in the 12 months ended June 1 last year.

Estimates for the provinces and territories with 1949 figures in brackets:

Newfoundland 355,000 (348,000); Prince Edward Island 96,000 (94,000); Nova Scotia 658,000 (645,000); New Brunswick 522,000 (516,000); Quebec 3,976,500 (3,887,000); Ontario 4,512,000 (4,411,000); Manitoba 795,000 (778,000); Saskatchewan 874,000 (861,000); Alberta 895,000 (827,000); British Columbia 1,138,000 (1,114,000); Yukon 8,000 (8,000); Northwest Territories 16,000 (16,000).

Mr. McRoberts was a member of the Milo, I.O.O.F. lodge.

Funeral services will be held from the Vulcan United church Friday at 2:30 p.m. and burial will be made in the Vulcan cemetery.

Stem Rust Again Threatens Wheat

By H. G. L. Strange

News comes from the border that stem rust for the first time in many years is appearing on practically all varieties of spring wheats used in the United States and Canada and which varieties are commonly supposed to be resistant to stem rust. It is thought that this is a different race of stem rust from those which destroyed so much of the wheat crop in the past. Just how virulent this present attack of this apparently new race of rust will be, and whether it will sweep northward into Canada, will not be known until nearer harvest time. Observations made in many Manitoba wheat fields disclosed only a slight trace as yet of infection, and that close to the U.S.A. border. Plant breeders and plant pathologists are concerned about this new threat to wheat crops, for if this is a new race, then it means that future plant breeding programs to produce varieties which will be resistant to this and possibly other races of stem rust, will have to be "stepped up" which means that more funds will be needed by all plant breeding establishments both in the United States and Canada, if plant breeders and plant pathologists are to keep ahead of nature's production of damaging new races of stem rust.

One of history's greatest underwater demolitions was the blasting of the nine-acre Flood Rock, near Long Island Sound, in 1858. Aaron Burr challenged Alexander Hamilton to a duel because the latter said he had a "despicable" opinion of Burr.

Hail Devastates Big Area At Reid Hill on Sunday

Hail, Rain and Wind Combine in District's "Worst Ever" Storm

The most violent and destructive hail storm in the history of this district struck Sunday afternoon, laying waste an estimated 20,000 acres of crop in the Reid Hill district east of town.

Preceded and accompanied by a torrential downpour of rain and strong winds, with gusts as high as 60 miles an hour, the storm came in from the south-west. Hail started to fall about five miles east of town and from there on a strip four to five miles wide, centering on the Reid Hill road, was devastated, with standing crops being pounded into the ground and swathed grain washed away by the rain and blown away by the wind. Most fields hit by the hail suffered 100 percent damage. Hay and other feed crops and gardens suffered to the same extent. The storm swept right out and over the lake and into the Armada district, with similar heavy losses to the farmers there, and is reported to have gone as far as Tilley and Rainier.

In the Reid Hill district it is estimated that about four inches of rain fell during the storm, with gulches cut into the fields, culverts swept away and the bridge five miles east of town also washed out.

Hail stones the size of golf balls killed many chickens and shattered windows in the Reid Hill hail and school and in practically every farm house in the path of the storm. Damage to many farm homes was considerable, as hail and rain pounded in through the shattered windows, marking and in some cases ruining furniture and floors.

The Nanton district is reported to have been hit hard by hail the same day and a small area between Vulcan and Nanton also reported hail damage. Wind damage to both standing and swathed grain is evident in some parts of the district.

An estimated two inches of rain fell in town, with some basements being flooded and vegetable and flower gardens were damaged to some extent.

Hunters Favor Multi-gun Law

George Watt, past president of the Alberta Fish and Game Association, said that he believes the Alberta Association "is very much in favor" of the enforcement of the new rule against multi-gun carriers in game bird hunting.

The rule, which has been made in additions to the regulation of allowing only two shells to be carried in the magazine of a gun and one in the chamber, states that a hunter will only be allowed to carry one gun.

"The multi-gun practise," Mr. Watt explained, "has never been done in Alberta to my knowledge and we have never had any complaint about it being carried on." He said that he was quite certain that Alberta hunters would favor the enforcement of present regulations—Calgary Herald.

Elect Delegates To District Convention

On Wednesday afternoon, August 23rd, Mrs. Les Richardson was hostess to the regular meeting of the Berrywater F.W.U.A. Fourteen members and visitors were present.

Mrs. Harry Douglass and Mrs. Ed. Richardson were elected as delegates to the District 12 Convention, to be held in High River in October.

At the October meeting, resolutions to be forwarded to the Provincial Convention will be dealt with, and the delegate to the Calgary Convention chosen.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting of the local in November, and to make this a "membership" meeting, with all members making a special effort to pay their dues on that day, and to bring visitors. The date of the November meeting was tentatively set ahead, to the 15th.

A number of good suggestions with regard to children's clothing were discussed, with the idea of sending them to the Consumers Association of Canada.

Mrs. Wilson Oldfield presented an informative paper on "Rural Electrification," and Mrs. Donald Smith gave a number of interesting hi-lights of her recent motor trip through the States to the East Coast.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Naaman Budd, on the 27th.

Farm Accidents Are Costly

$36,000,000 for Medical, Dental and Hospital care was spent for accidental injuries to farm people in 1948. This does not include costs to people who were killed or who suffered permanent total disabilities, nor the value of lost time which totalled about 17,000,000 days. Cost of medical care averaged $43.00 per accident and the time lost averaged about twenty days per accident. Out of a study of 2,000 farm accidents, 476 were due to falls, 248 to machinery, 233 to animals, 179 to motor vehicles, 159 to handling objects, 150 to hand tools, 146 to stepping on striking objects, 102 to falling or flying objects, 81 to burns or shock 153 to unknown. Precaution must be taken to prevent serious accidents, as farming is not one of the safest occupations. It is estimated that 48 farm residents will be killed by accidents each day during the next twelve months in the U.S.A. 17,520 farm residents killed in one year. Be careful. Play safe and live to enjoy tomorrow.

Cancer Treatment

Physicians point out that modern methods of treatment can cure about 95% of all skin or lip cancers and 75% of breast or uterine cancers. But it is important that treatment be brought to bear as early as possible. Make yourself familiar with the symptoms of cancer and, if you suspect anything, see a physician at once.

Insurance Not Savings

"UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE is making burns out of some young men. They would rather take $8 a week in insurance than go where work is available."

This statement was not voiced by any reactionary, conservative industrialist.

It is the considered opinion, recently expressed, of a man intimately acquainted with the operation of our Unemployment Insurance Commission, and one who is entirely sympathetic to the plight of those who are jobless through no fault of their own.

He must remain anonymous because he is a senior civil servant. But his views are worthy of study. Far too many Canadians look upon jobless insurance funds as money which they, themselves, have saved and, therefore, money which they have a right to dispose of as they see fit.

That, of course, is far from the case.

Jobless insurance funds are not the sum total of the savings of all Canadian workers. If each contributor decided to quit work and draw all the unemployment insurance which he or she is "entitled," the fund would be speedily broke.

While there are 585 million dollars in the federal unemployment insurance treasury, it is worth noting that in 1949, a year in which Canadian employment was at a high, the fund staged a very "close race" between costs and income.

Unemployment insurance is insurance and nothing more. It is intended to cover short term emergencies. It is paid out of funds contributed only one-third by the employee, and the balance by the employer and general tax-paying public.

Insurance is only good if it is paid out under sound, business principles.

It is not designed, and never was, to bonus idleness.—C.W.N.A.

Importance of Tourist Trade

Canada's tourist "take" in 1949 is officially estimated at $288,000,000, $270,000,000 of which were in United States dollars.

Many benefits from the Tourist Industry come locally . . . to employment, through profits and taxes, as a definite market for the farmer. It has been too often said that tourist business is not the agriculturist's concern at all, but one realizes how short-sighted, how incorrect, that statement is when one ponders the fact that a single resort hotel, of moderate rates and average guest capacity of 200, bought $18,000 worth of Canadian produce during its 30-day operation of last summer. Let's carry these benefits further afield, into our tourist services, and we find the aforementioned $270,000,000 overall expenditure of American visitors was distributed as follows: in retail and department stores, $67.5 million; in restaurants and food stores, $59.4 million; in hotels, restaurants and camps, $45.9 million; in service stations and garages, $32.4 million; for movies, entertainment and recreation, $24.3 million; for train, steamship, motor coach and plane fares, $18.9 million; for refreshments and roadside purchases, $13.5 million; and for novelties, souvenirs, and a host of other things, $8.1 million.

So let's support our local tourist business in every way possible.—C.W.N.A.

Township councillors hereabouts who had an expensive time with winter-worn roads this spring might profit from this story by Earl Wilson.

A visitor asked a local councillor: "How are the local roads?"

"Fine," he replied. "We've abolished bad roads."

"Big job, wasn't it?" said the visitor.

"Not at all," the councillor said. "Wherever the going is particularly hard, we don't call it a road. We call it a detour."

If the Conservative party had been a believer in the free enterprise system in 1946 when the U.K.—Canada Wheat Agreement was proposed by the Gardiner-Howe-MacKinnon Liberal triumvirate, and had taken a strong stand against the policy of bulk trading between governments, the Tories could make much political capital out of the now tragic failure of that Agreement. As it is, Liberals, Tories, and C.C.F.s are all painted with the same brush which led to a $357 million loss for Canadian wheat growers. The farmers' bankbooks are, however, no more in the red than our politicians' faces.

New Government Ship Makes Maiden Voyage

Laden with more than 1,000 tons of assorted cargo, the Department of Transport's new vessel, the C.G.S. "C. D. Howe," will head for Davis Strait and up into Baffin Bay and Foxe Basin, calling on such northern outposts as Cape Dorset, Lake Harbour, Frobisher Bay, Pangnirtung, Clyde River, Pond Inlet and Craig Harbour which is the farthest northern outpost on its itinerary. Calls may also be made at Dundas Harbour and Arctic Bay.

While the major portion of the cargo includes food, fuel and other staple items, the "C. D. Howe" is also carrying much needed building supplies and radio and weather station equipment for the Department of Transport's expanded northern facilities. Included in the vessel's cargo is a jeep destined for the radio station at Cape Harrison, giving indication of the stepped-up activities in that area. The personnel of Fort MacKenzie will receive a long awaited electric washing machine. Also included in the variety cargo is a 34 foot whale boat for delivery to the Hudson Bay Company outpost at Clyde River.

The new Eastern Arctic Patrol vessel, the C.G.S. "C. D. Howe" has been built and equipped especially for service in the Arctic waters during the summer months. During the off-seasons, the vessel will be engaged in the maintenance of the Department's aids to navigation on the Atlantic seaboard.

One of the features of the new vessel is a helicopter which will be used for assisting in navigation through ice, for transporting passengers and mail to ice-bound communities, for survey work and other work as required.

Aboard the vessel will be a representative of the Arctic Division of the Department of Resources and development, also officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the Department of Health and Welfare and the Department of Mines and Technical Surveys.

See Discrimination In Freight Rates

Solon Low, M.P., Social Credit leader pointed out the striking variation in freight rates affecting the prairies unfavorably.

"When the recent 20 per cent increase becomes effective," said the Alberta member, "the rate on canned goods will be: From Toronto to Calgary and Edmonton $2.77 per hundredweight; from Vancouver to Edmonton, $1.25.

"The rate to Calgary and Edmonton directly from Toronto and the rates from Vancouver to Calgary and Edmonton will be increased because they are normal or noncompetitive rates; but the rate from eastern Canada to Vancouver which is a competitive rate will not be increased at all.

"The rate to Calgary will be 197 per cent of the rate to Vancouver, although the distance to Vancouver is 500 miles greater. The rate from Toronto to Vancouver and back to Calgary or Edmonton will be 12 per cent per hundredweight less than the published rate direct from Toronto to Calgary."

This, of course, is due to the water competitive rate via the Panama canal.

Illustrating by freight on tractors to points in Canada, Mr. Low said:

"If you were to haul one of those tractors from Rock Island, Illinois, to Saint John, New Brunswick, a distance of 1,472 miles in 1947, the rate would have been $1.25 per hundredweight. No increase will be made under the 20 per cent award so it will remain $1.25. However, to Brooks, Alberta a distance of 1,480 miles, eight miles farther, in 1947 the rate was $1.96 per hundredweight. The new rate under the 20 per cent award will be $2.27 per hundredweight, a 90 per cent discrimination against the Alberta point for only eight miles farther."

Mr. Low added: A binder that weighs 2,052 pounds, shipped from Hamilton, Ontario, to St. John, New Brunswick, 1,115 miles, in 1947 took a rate of $11.39. The 1950 rate will be $16.62, that is, when the 20 per cent increase is applied. For the same binder shipped to Lethbridge, Alberta, 1,897 miles, in 1947, the rate was $32.82 but the 1950 rate will be $48.69. The distance from Hamilton to Lethbridge is 782 miles farther than from Hamilton to St. John, but the rate to the Albert point is almost three times that to the New Brunswick point, which indicates at least a 50 per cent discrimination against Alberta.—Saskatoon Star Phoenix.

'Hard Core' of Refugees Begins to Soften

Among the refugees living in camps operated in Europe by the International Refugee Organization (IRO), a United Nations Specialized Agency, are some 25,000 old and sick persons, the "hard core" which has the greatest difficulty finding new homes. In recent months, however, homes have been provided for some of them. In the left hand photo, an aged refugee, one of 980 offered homes by a Roman Catholic order in France, talks to a French priest about the new life ahead. At the right, a blind refugee (left) discusses the prospect of a new life in Norway, where 100 sightless persons and an equal number of their families have been accepted. With him is a camp official of the International Refugee Organization (center) and a Norwegian representative.

Note

A fair of this kind depends on the whole-hearted cooperation of the district for its success. You will find that this is not a money-making scheme—it is more of a get-together for the whole district—and while the sponsors hope to obtain some financial benefit to be used for community work, they are asking everyone to join in true community spirit to put on a really fine show. If each family in this outstanding district will make an effort to enter at least one exhibit, success is assured.

LET'S SEE WHAT VULCAN AND DISTRICT CAN SHOW! This fair is being handled jointly by the members of St. Aldhelm's Ladies Guild and the Vulcan Lions Club.

Redecorating For Winter

Too early to start talking about winter, you say? Perhaps so, but it's never too early to start thinking about it if you plan to redecorate during the winter months. A few leisure moments spent now in planning will bring much satisfaction later on, and will produce far better results than if you wait until the last minute, and have all the arranging to do just before the work begins.

In selecting a new color scheme for example, you'll want time to compare fabrics, floor coverings, paint colors. If you don't intend to change all the furniture in your room, it will be necessary to see new colors in relationship to the large pieces of furniture which you intend to retain. This will mean collecting color swatches for materials, and color chips from your paint dealer. Be sure you see all colors under natural light, as artificial light plays strange tricks on color.

Any large department store, or interior decorating establishment will be willing to suggest intriguing color combinations. Or perhaps you will find an attractive room in the pages of one of the many home decorating magazines which are now on the stands. Once again, think in terms of your own room when you see such a picture. Is your room larger, or smaller? Does it have any unusual features, such as alcoves, windows recesses, corners which seem to jut into the room? Strong colors applied to such features will make them even more noticeable. Soft tones will make them recede, and they may become less objectionable. Always keep in mind that the decorating magazines show as nearly perfect a room as possible. The average room may be something less than that.

Yet with modern paints and the information which is readily available from your paint dealer, it is possible to work out a combination of colors that will appeal to the whole family. Remember that the family will be indoors much more during the late fall and winter, and you are decorating for them as well as yourself.

And now, let's get down to the actual business of decorating. First of all take an inventory of your house, both inside and outside before you start to paint, make a list of all the repairs which should be done—and do them! Caulk around windows and doors with caulking compound; fill up all breaks in walls and apply putty where needed, around your windows. Go over your house, both inside and outside, from cellar to attic with paper and pencil in hand. Note everything that should be noted including the color schemes you wish to use for each room in the house.

Decide whether you want to change the apparent size of a room; this can be accomplished with paint. Don't overlook the effect of adjacent rooms which may be seen through open doors or archways. Paint them so that the rooms will not clash with each other. Such a condition occurs in many modern homes where living and dining areas are connected by a wide archway. One simple way of lending unanimity to a color scheme for such rooms is to finish them both in identical paint shades. However, this may not appeal to people who wish more variety in their color schemes.

For such people there is a happy alternative. As an example, let us say that the walls of the living room are finished in a very pale blue-green tint while the ceiling of this room is an off-white tone. Use the same blue-green tint on the ceiling of the dining room, and put the off-white color on the walls. This is a particularly appealing use of color, and monotony is avoided.

In recent years, some color experts have cautioned home owners against possible clashes between colors of flowers and shrubbery seen through windows and open doors, and the colors of painted wood in the house. This may seem highly critical, but you may find it worth considering, for it is usually cheaper to paint than it is to change established flowers, trees and shrubbery.

Light reflectance paints are especially desirable for rooms which do not have an overabundance of natural light. In this class of paints are white, light ivory, beige, apricot, ivory, lemon yellow, light buff, salmon, peach, pale gray, light pearl gray, medium gray, light green, apple green, pale green.

Plant Trees

Trees are something every farmer and rancher should have on his place. These may form a wind-break and beautification for your farmstead, or perhaps you will require them for field shelterbelts. They provide shade in the summer, protection in the winter, besides giving an added beauty to your farm or ranch. Moisture will be conserved and soil erosion in fields reduced to a minimum. No longer need any farmer think of his place as only a temporary place to live. Rather, today, the farmers and ranchers should be planning the farm as a permanent place to live and building to make it more inviting to their children. There is no better way to beautify your place than by planting trees.

Trees may be obtained free from the Dominion Experimental Station, Indian Head, Saskatchewan. Application made this summer and land summerfallowed will assure you of trees next spring. Let your District Agriculturist or Field Supervisor know if you desire trees.

NUTRITION FROM THE SEA

Fish and sea food provide a variety of nutritive factors. They are rich in protein, minerals and vitamins and some varieties also provide a quantity of fat. Obtainable fresh, frozen, canned and cured they may be prepared in many ways to add interest and enjoyment as well as health-giving nutrients to meals.

Poor posture can damage vital organs—therefore, proper posture is important to health. Many posture faults can be corrected by exercise.

NEWS OF INTEREST

This year Canadian sugar beet growers have planted the largest acreage in our history, about 100,000 acres.

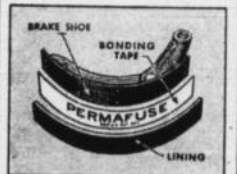

Canada's telegraph and cable companies had revenues of $19,422,788 in 1948, a record high, but wage increases and higher costs of materials resulted in a loss by the industry that year of $869,614.

Value of textile goods produced annually in Canada exceeds the value of the entire wheat crop, and is five times that of gold.

Personal expenditure by Canadians on consumer goods and services amounted to $10,750,000,000 in 1949, compared to $3,775,000,000 in 1938.

Rivets — and Drum Scoring — are eliminated when your car or truck brake linings are bonded with PERMAFUSE, the Modern Method of Relining Brakes. Thoroughly proved in use by thousands of car and truck owners.

Instead of rivets, a strip of the PERMAFUSE Bonding Tape is clamped between the brake shoe and the brake lining and heated in our electric bonding oven until they are virtually fused together. Remember PERMAFUSE for Longer Lasting Brakes.
